Messages from our Clergy

It is hard to imagine, but it is October. Unfortunately we live in an area that does not offer the changing of colors – the leaves are green all year. If you like to see nature in its glory, perhaps a drive north to Flagstaff or surrounding areas will give you the opportunity to remember what seasons are all about.

It is just as hard to imagine that the High Holidays are still with us. There was a time when the beginning of October meant the World Series. And, if you can remember, the World Series of Baseball always fell on Yom Kippur. Perhaps you will also remember the rabbi occasionally interrupting the service to announce the score. In those days it was the Yankees vs. the Dodgers. It seemed that they were the only two teams in the leagues.

Well, this year, we do not have the World Series yet, but we will gather for Yom Kippur, October 8 – 9. Yom Kippur represents the culmination of “Asereh Y’may Teshuvah,” the ten days of Repentance (from Rosh Hashanah to Yom Kippur). Our tradition teaches that starting with the Hebrew month of Elul until the first of day of the Hebrew month of Tishrei (30 days) we prepare for the Days of Awe with S’lichot prayers. It is sort of a dress rehearsal for the final day of Repentance, Yom Kippur.

There are so many memories of that period. The one that stands out is the midnight service. The time was chosen, as a reminder that time was not the criteria in beseeching God. There was no time of day or night that was an inconvenience in seeking forgiveness from God. At the altar were the cantor, rabbi, choir, and temple dignitaries, all assembled to remind us of the solemnity of the season. The haunting music resonated throughout the temple and we felt a sense of connection.

There are other traditions that remind us of our heritage and obligations to each other, our past, and to God. One that we practice as a congregation is KEVER AVOT –visiting the graves of our ancestors. There is a service at the cemetery and then individual visits to gravesites where special prayers are recited.

This year, as in the past, we will hold this service at the Valley of the Sun Cemetery, Chandler Heights Boulevard, Sunday, October 6 – 10:30am. We will gather in the Chapel at the cemetery and then, following the service, the cantor and I will be available to visit individual graves for the special prayers that are recited. I encourage everyone to participate in this meaningful experience.

Most of us have relatives and friends resting in distant locations. This is an opportunity to visit all of them through this service. It is also an opportunity to show support and offer comfort to each other as we remember everyone who meant so much to us.

Rabbi Irwin Wiener, D.D.

President's Message

Last month I wrote about the synagogue as a three-pillared organization: spirituality, community, and fiscal stability. Thinking about all of these, I believe SLJC needs to do better in the area of community.

I was dismayed at the last Board of Directors meeting to hear the stories from at least two current BOD members. As they recounted their first experiences with SLJC, both said that nobody went out of their way to welcome them in any way. For one, who was brand new to the local area, the word she used about us was cold. The other member repeated the memory of not having anyone approach them or do anything to make them feel comfortable as a newcomer. Fortunately for us, both eventually found their way back to SLJC.

But at the BOD meeting, we had a lively discussion about ways that we could and should be more welcoming. Showing a laissez-faire attitude actually hurts us in terms of sustaining membership and attracting newcomers to join SLJC. Things as simple as inviting newcomers to sit with you at the Oneg Shabbat make a huge difference. If they have someone to talk to, who takes an interest in them, it makes a huge difference in how they feel about us. Too often when new people walk across the street alone and enter the Navajo Room, they are told that there is no room at a table because we're sitting with or saving seats for friends. It's no wonder they never come back! The simple act of moving another chair or two to your table and squeezing together makes them feel wanted and comfortable.

Another welcoming gesture is to get the contact info of newcomers and call them, perhaps even inviting them to join you for dinner at your home or at a restaurant. Getting to know one another helps them to feel connected, and connections create community. By taking an interest in them, we may all benefit. We have the possibility of making new friends, or at the very least, of directing them to SLJC activities and other people with whom they may have things in common.

Next month at services, when newcomers introduce themselves (no matter if they're permanent Arizonans, snowbirds, or visitors), think about approaching them after services to let them know we're happy they're among us. Remember, it's daunting to walk into a new situation. The last thing we want or need is to lose current or future members because they think we don't want them.

Geri Gould

Congregant's Thank you Notes

I wish to thank each and everyone from S.L.J.C. who took the time to send me GET WELL cards for my recent health set-back. I care deeply for you all and for your meaningful thoughts. I send my thoughts in return to all of you.

Yom Kippur Special Events

Kever Avot

Our annual Kever Avot service to be held at the valley of the Sun Cemetery, October 6th at 10:30, is a tradition that dates to the early history of our people. During the Talmudic period people were known to visit the graves of their rabbis to ask them to intercede on their behalf before God. This was done prior to Yom Kippur.

However, the actual tradition of visiting the graves of our ancestors began in the 14th century and was a strong commitment in Sephardic communities. These visits also included requests for interceding.

Tashlich

Even though we do not offer this religious practice as we had previously, it still is a beautiful way to “cast away” our sins as we begin a New Year. In the book of Micah, the prophet explains that God knows our thoughts and is aware of our actions. He suggests that casting away our sins in the depth of the oceans is an act that emphasizes our desire to start new and feel cleansed. If you have an opportunity to visit a pond or any body of water, perhaps symbolically throwing away the past will enhance your ability to feel the majestic magic of the holiday.

Conversation with the Rabbi

Each Yom Kippur afternoon members of the congregation join me in the Chapel prior to the afternoon service to express feelings and ask questions that, perhaps, have been troubling us. It is an opportunity to open up with thoughts and experiences that offer an insight into what is occurring in our lives at this very moment. The conversation begins at 2:00 pm on Yom Kippur day and concludes at 3:00 pm as we begin the afternoon service leading into Yizkor and then Neilah.

Break-Fast

This beautiful experience marking the end of our Yom Kippur allows us to gather once more with the members of our congregation. We are a community of caring devoted people and coming together is an indication of our concern for each another. I think of no better way to begin a new that with those we cherish and with whom we share a common bond of commitment to our faith.

On Tuesday, November 12th, we hold our regular meeting with a program at the Chapel Center.

Adult Education

SLJC is planning a very exciting program for the year 2019-20. Rabbi Wiener and the Adult Education committee will be presenting many opportunities to attend courses this coming year.

On October 29th, Rabbi Wiener will speak on a very important subject that concerns us all entitled "Aging Gracefully." This will deal with both physical and emotional changes that we begin to observe. This will be a gentle talk that will benefit all attending, finding ways of keeping positive and active at this time in our lives.

This talk will take place at the Chapel Center from 1:00-2:30. Please call Gail at 480-802-1832 and let her know you will be attending. Looking forward to hearing from you.

HOLD THE FOLLOWING DATES:

January 28th, 2020: We are planning a very exciting panel featuring leaders from diverse religions and cultures. The panelists will be sharing what makes us more alike than different: Rituals on Birth, Coming of Age, and Marriage. Jewish, Muslim, Native American, Christian and Hispanic. Very exciting! Be there. Mark it down. Please call and make a reservation. Gail 480-802-1832

March 24th, 2020: We will be continuing our panel discussion. This time the subjects to be discussed by our panel will be The Rituals Surrounding Death and the Beliefs About After Life.

Don't miss these exciting opportunities. We are working hard for you to make this year special for you.

Put down these dates and call Gail 480-802-1832 for reservations.

We will be continuing the Shabbat Salon Films Saturday, October 19th at the Village of Ocotillo.

ADDENDUM:

Rabbi Wiener has been asked by NAILS to be a lecturer for their adult classes at the Chandler/Gilbert College on Riggs and Alma School. He will be holding four classes. ### Chapel Center Treasure Sale

We are back! What Fun! It's the Chapel Center's Thirteenth Annual Treasure Sale. We are at 9240 N. Sun Lakes Blvd., Phase One, across the street from the Club House in Sun Lakes. The dates are Friday October 18 from 7:00 a.m. until 1 p.m. and Saturday October 19 from 7:00 a.m. until noon. The Treasure Sale will have really great items for sale donated by the people in the greater Sun Lakes area.

All the proceeds from this event go to support the Sun Lakes Chapel and Chapel Center, which hosts four congregations: The Sun Lakes Community Church, The Sun Lakes Jewish Congregation, The Sun Lakes Lutheran Church and The Sun Lakes United Church of Christ.

If you have items to donate, please leave them on the back porch of the Chapel Center. If they are too large for you to move call Butch at 1-612-743-5998 (e-mail at butchhall43@yahoo.com) and he will arrange for pick-up. Please, no clothing, no TV or large electronics. See you there.

SLJC Nominating Committee

The Nominating committee chaired by Wende Levy and members Alan Behr, Diana Nelinson and Gail Dante met over the summer and are pleased to present the current slate of candidates to the Board.

Two current board members are running for re-election for a 2nd term:

Linda Brooks

Michael Abrams

Two currently appointed members of the board are running for election to their 1st term:

Michael Milgroom

Richard Agins

The fifth candidate for election to a 1st term is Marilyn Koss.

Please review the bios from the candidates and plan to attend the SLJC Annual Meeting which will be held on Tues., Nov. 12th at 7:00 at the Chapel Center.

During the Congregational Meeting, each of the candidates will deliver a short bio describing their connection to SLJC and their interest in serving the BOD. Assuming no other nominations arise from the floor, the plan is to have them elected as slate that night and then be invited to attend the November board meeting to transition and to get a grasp of the roles of the officers so that election of officers of the BOD can take place during the December 2019 meeting.

Linda Brooks

I moved to Sun Lakes with my husband Bob, in May 2010, because our daughter had moved to Phoenix two years earlier and we were tired of shoveling snow. We lived in Connecticut for 37 years and I was very active in my synagogue, especially in Sisterhood. I served on the Sisterhood board for many years as treasurer, program VP and fundraiser. I was in charge of the Sisterhood major fundraiser, our semi-annual rummage sale for over 25 years.

Moving to Sun Lakes, I joined another Shul and quickly became active. I was co-president of Sisterhood for three years, and a member of the Temple board for six years in charge of our Lay Service which was held once a month. I started several ongoing fundraisers.

We decided to join SLJC several years ago. I have always looked forward to being active in our Shul and serving on the Board. At SLJC I started several fundraisers and hope to be able to do more in the future.

Marilyn Koss

I graduated from high school at 16 and nursing school would not accept me because I was too young. I went to school and became a dental assistant which I did for 5 years. I was married at 19 and had 2 children by the age of 23. When my youngest daughter entered 1st grade two women from Hadassah rang my bell and asked if I would like to attend a meeting. I had no idea what Hadassah was but became hooked that very first time. I worked my way up the leadership ladder and became president in 1980. I also was given the Woman of Valor award in 1984. That all happened when I lived in the Boston area. When I moved to Arizona I helped get the Rabin group (which is now the Devorah chapter) started. I have been a member of the SLJC for several years and corresponding secretary for the Sisterhood for the past 6 years.

Lastly, I have been a licensed Realtor for 30 years, 26 of those years in Arizona and previous to that four years in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Richard Agins

Richard Agins began his career in 1970 as the controller of a large New York construction company. During his time with that company he earned his Master of Business Administration degree in accounting and finance. He left the company in 1975 to join a public accounting firm and fulfill the requirements to become a CPA. He earned his certification in 1976. After leaving the practice of public accounting in 1977, Richard worked as Chief Financial Officer and Vice-President for a major New York City construction contractor, where he oversaw cost- and financial accounting, negotiated major material purchase contracts and contract change orders, and managed the company's quarterly and annual reporting for inclusion in the Forms 10-Q and 10-K filings of its parent company with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In 1984 Richard founded a management consulting firm with clients in the construction, manufacturing, wholesale distribution and food production industries, in which he implemented efficiency and cost-saving measures that increased his clients' productivity and profitability.

Richard became CEO of a fashion accessories design and manufacturing company in 1988, where he took charge of operations, finance, sales and production until 2003, when he graduated from Pace University School of Law with his Juris Doctor, cum laude.

From 2003 until 2009, Richard was an attorney with Bingham McCutchen, LLP, where he worked on major corporate restructurings, M&A transactions and corporate finance engagements for major insurance companies and distressed investor/hedge fund clients. In mid-2009, Richard became a partner in a start-up law firm with offices in Connecticut, New York and Pennsylvania. His book of business included corporate and limited liability company formation, bankruptcy, employment law, commercial real estate transactions, construction-related litigation, estate planning (Wills and Trusts), and immigration law.

In 2013 Richard moved to Arizona. He first joined a small law firm handling all of its bankruptcy, personal injury and corporate work. When that firm closed its doors late in 2014, Richard launched Agins Law Firm, PLC, which focused its practice on estate planning, business transactional matters, bankruptcy and elder law. Richard also served as in-house counsel for a CPA firm for two years during that time, handling all of its legal transactional and litigation matters.

In 2019, Richard joined the LegalShield division of Davis Miles McGuire Garner, where he handles business law, estate planning, probate, bankruptcy, construction, consumer finance, and landlord/tenant matters.

Michael Abrams

Michael Abrams and his wife, Helen Bernstein-Abrams, have lived in Sun Lakes since 2014. Prior to that, they lived in the Chicago area, where they both were born. Michael is a retired CPA. He was previously on the Board Of Directors of Ezra Habonim, The Niles Township Jewish Congregation in Skokie, Illinois, as well as the North Shore Chapter of the Illinois CPA Society and Stars Of David.

A place where comfort and exceptional care come together.

That place is an SRG Community.

It's where you'll find all levels of Assisted Living services, a caring staff, and great neighbors all rolled into one. Which is why families call the comfort at an SRG Community "amazing."

Why not come see if you share that same feeling at a complimentary lunch and tour?

Please call La Siena and The Village at Ocotillo to schedule your complimentary lunch and tour.
